

Transition Capital Partners Announces Andrew Foskey Joins the Firm

Transition Capital Partners (“TCP”), a Dallas-based private equity firm, is pleased to announce Andrew Foskey has joined the firm as a Managing Director.

Andy has spent his career in the fields of private equity, alternative credit, corporate finance and investment banking. Prior to joining Transition Capital Partners, Andy served as a Managing Partner with Ironwood Recovery Management, a manager of distressed debt funds, Managing Director in the Capital Markets Group with Peachtree Financial Solutions, a specialty finance company owned by Credit Suisse, Managing Director with Hunt Private Equity Group, Vice President of Corporate Development for J.B. Poindexter & Co., Chief Financial Officer of a private equity backed consolidator in the equipment rental industry, and, a Director of Corporate Finance for Comerica Bank. Over his career Andy has acquired controlling positions in well over a dozen companies, raised close to $1 billion in capital across numerous transactions employing a wide variety of structures including public high-yield debt, bank credit facilities, term loans, subordinated debt and equity capital, securitizations and investment funds, managed corporate financial affairs as a CFO, and advised on many successful M&A transactions. Andy earned a BA from Michigan State University, an MBA from Wayne State University, holds the Chartered Financial Analyst designation and is a member of the CFA Institute.

TCP Managing Director Rick Baldwin remarked: “We are very pleased that Andy has joined the team. Andy brings a wealth of experience and countless relationships gained from more than two decades of focusing on the lower middle market. Additionally, similar to the rest of the TCP team, Andy has the hands-on operating experience we believe is so critical in assisting our management teams create value in our portfolio companies.”

About Transition Capital Partners

Transition Capital Partners (“TCP”) is a 19 year old Dallas-based private equity firm investing in leveraged recapitalizations and management buyouts of well-managed, entrepreneurial, lower middle market service oriented businesses. TCP is particularly successful investing in high growth companies where additional management and strategic resources are required by the existing ownership group. We typically provide the entrepreneur an opportunity to gain liquidity, while maintaining a significant stake in the business for future upside, and if desired, a reduced management role.
